Height-adjustable at the press of a button

Various shapes, sizes and designs

Sufficient space for the technology

L-Com | The ideal communications workplace for control centres and command centres. The desk is very robust and offers plenty of space. The optional technology room is spacious and affords comfortable legroom. The cable management system is also easily accessible and available in various versions. The desktop is available in depths of one, two or three parts for easy access to the cable tray. The L-Com model can be supplemented with an extensive range of accessories and can be adapted to various ventilation and cooling systems, such as the CoolTop.

- Desktop is height adjustable at the press of a button
- Very robust and torsionally rigid construction
- Modular structure, simple adaptation to changing requirements
- Lots of room for technology and still lots of space for the user
- Desk sizes, radii, colours and materials are freely selectable
- Wide range of options for air-conditioning and heat removal, also for subsequent retrofitting
